Hey, everyone, welcome to another episode. It's Saturday morning. I chatted with you all an earlier episode this week about me staying on track, right that we all have to stay on track. And we can't allow our work days during the week to fill up Saturday, where we get to wake up at whatever time we want to, you know, hypothetically right. You know, typically, Saturdays are just a bit more relaxed, fixing breakfast with a family time, so on and so forth. And so I can tell you that, you know, as I record this, I've already gotten up and spent some time with family had breakfast, and now we're getting ready to get started on the day. And so the challenge for you today is don't stop hustling.

Okay.

You know, I woke up this morning, even though it is Saturday, I just woke up energized and woke up ready for the day ready to do some new things in the business. Have some great ideas and some things I want to do to try to help some other people out there. And yeah, I don't have the Plants finalize. It's still sort of rattling around in my brain. And I know you all know what I'm talking about where you have this general idea. It's there in your mind, but you haven't completely formulated it yet. And that's okay. Right. There's no sense of urgency to finalize it, because your business is fine. But you're just excited about the possibility of something new. So you're thinking through it and just enjoying the thought process of coming up with a new idea. And that's where I am this morning. So, you know, my challenge for you is don't stop hustling. keep getting excited about ideas. There's a lot of people out there right now talking about all these Netflix series and, you know, how can I spend my time and, you know, obviously, the most popular one right now on Netflix is Tiger key. I have not watched it. And that's not because I'm not a fan of Netflix. It's just because I'm more a fan of coming up with great ideas to help other people. Now eventually, I will probably sit down and maybe watch it. We'll see You know, the kids have already watched frozen two that got released early, we have Disney plus. And so they watched it one evening together in their beds, right, they asked if they could watch it for a few minutes before they went to sleep. And so that was one of their treats. We don't normally do that for them. But they did. And so now they want to watch it together as a family. So I'm more apt to probably do that, at some point, then then to do higher gain, because I would much rather spend time you know, with the family. And so, I am going to spend the day we've got some things to do around the house. It's a great time to work out in the yard is not going to be too hot. And just take care of some some house chores and make things look a little bit better outside. I enjoy doing that. So I'm looking forward to that today. But I'm also going to spend time as I'm working throughout the day I'm going to have my phone with me not working on the phone. I like to have my phone in my pocket, or you know somewhere close so I can grab it and make a quick voice note. A quick voice note about, oh gosh, here's this idea. Oh, wait, here's how I can use it. Oh wait here is here's something that I can give to other people to help them move forward in their business. And so I'm just I'm excited about what the day is going to hold, because I am not going to spend the day watching Netflix, I'm gonna spend the day working around the house spending time with family doing some house chores together, but still, you know, marinating on this idea that I'm coming up with. And so hopefully I'll be able to bring that idea to you all soon. That's the plan. But today's challenge, and I always try to leave you with one right? I always try to leave you with a thought you need to be thinking about or an action that you need to take. And so today, I want you to enjoy your Saturday, only to have a great, amazing day. I'm going to do something productive. And it doesn't have to be work related to something productive with family and your home. in the community. If you are able to do that. Maybe you can volunteer somewhere for allowing that right now. Okay, you know, maybe you're going to have a zoom call, or you're going to do some sort of live webinar to help other people. I'm not sure. Maybe you know, you are like a lot of people that I know and work with, and you're a healthcare provider. And so you're still out there working. And you're taking care of everyone who sick and going through this illness. And so for that, if you are, I appreciate you so much. Thank you for what you're doing to take care of all of us. But whatever it is you're doing, don't stop hustling. That's my challenge. You know, when you're tired, when you're worn out when it's easier to watch TV versus come up with a new idea for your business, come up with a new idea for your business. All right, you will get so much more out of that than spending your entire Saturday. You know, catching up on all of the shows that you've recorded, or that are popular right now in the world. Don't let that attraction. Come and take over your path. build out your hustle today. What's your next house we're going to be what's it going to look like? What do you want You're going to do, how are you going to give back? How are you going to take care of your customer? When we come out of this, this change and we know that the economy is still going to be a little different, but people are still going to need us. Okay. How are you going to give back? What is it you are going to offer your customer that's going to help them come back strong and feel a bit more sense of normalcy as we get back to what will be a different day to day, but the day to day nonetheless. All right, so have an amazing Saturday. Keep hustling thanks.
